Glider Ride Tours through North Plains, OR

Come let Oregon Active show you a flying experience like nothing else! Riding in a sailplane or (glider) is the purest form of flying there is. You will be sitting in the front seat of the glider with the pilot flying from the rear sight behind you. As you are being towed to altitude by one of the towplanes, the view will be breathtaking! Once you have reached your release altitude, your pilot will release the glider from the towrope by pulling a lever, and you will find yourself in motorless, silent flight.

Now you are gently floating through the air, with plenty of time to take in the view. In the small, quiet setting of a sailplane, you will experience the true freedom of the skies! A truly memorable experience! Altitudes and duration of flight will vary, usually a ride will last 25 – 30 minutes and often times the pilot will turn the controls over to you and let you do the flying...
